Liostasi Ios Hotel & Spa in Ios will be operating with new luxury suites this year

Liostasi Ios Hotel & Spa will be welcoming the new season with six new luxury suites. In particular, the elegant suites are a result of the collaboration of the hotel with the distinguished designer and director Antonis Kalogridis, who is well known for his designs of romantic ambiance, the unexpected forms of the bedrooms, the unique bathrooms and the advanced technological equipment. Each two-story suite of the new wing boasts one or two bedrooms, a living room and outdoor seating area in the private garden. Guests of the new wing can access a separate pool for their exclusive use, having uninterrupted views of one of the most spectacular sunsets in the Mediterranean.

In addition, the operation of the improved restaurant Grandma's offers new dishes along with its enriched award-winning breakfast delicacies of Cycladic inspiration.

Furthermore, the Liostasi Spa offers new treatments and will welcome this year's season with a new outdoor spa treatment area for couples, offering spectacular and breathtaking views of the Aegean Sea and the neighboring Cycladic islands.

"During the winter of this year we have worked very hard to further upgrade Liostasi and strengthen its position as the best hotel in Ios and one of the most romantic hotels in the Cyclades," said Mr. Artemis Denaxas, owner of Liostasi Ios Hotel & Spa at the launch of the new suites. "Faithful to our policy to enriching our product, we worked once more with Anthonis Kalogridis, one of our country's best hotel designers. His remarkable ability to create spaces that exude good taste and sensuality by combining elements of the Cycladic tradition with a highly contemporary feel, makes him the perfect person for this project. As of now we offer the most appropriate combination of rooms and suites of various sizes, so that all our guests - couples, families and groups of friends - may find the suitable accommodation for their preferences. "

The Liostasi Ios Hotel & Spa (www.liostasi.gr) is the only member of Small Luxury Hotels of the World in Ios. It is the premier boutique hotel on the island situated between the harbor and the historic Chora - the cultural center of the island - and it stands out for it's romantic atmosphere, the high level of it's cuisine and the breathtaking views of the nearby Sikinos and Sifnos islands. The excellent beaches and famous nightlife of Ios are just a few minutes away from Liostasi.
